Sir Edward Grey Answers Question as to Scope of America's Polley.

London, March 28.—"Does the British government recognize that the Monroe dectrine is applicable only to the American Continent, or does it admit that it includes the islands of the West Indian Archipelago?" was the Question put to Sir Edward Grey in the House of Commons this afternoon.

The Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs said that it was difficult to reply without knowing the meaning that the questioner attached to the Monroe Doctrine and the archipelago. He continued:

Supreme Court, However, Reverses Ruling at Orange in Armstead Case.

An opinion prepared by Judge John A. Buchanan was handed down yesterday in the Supreme Court of Appeals in the case of Howard Armstead against the Commonwealth, from the Circuit Court of Orange county, in which the lower court is reversed.

The case involves the shipment of liquor into dry territory and has a number of fine points as between all license, local option and wet territory. The case seems to have been much in a nature of a test of certain sections of the Byrd law, as a statement of facts was agreed upon and submitted to the court by the attorneys for hoits sides. Violation of section 29 of the Byrd law, passed March 15, 1910, was charged, the clause providing that on each shipment of liquor into a local option or no license territory, the consignee shall mark plainly on the consignee shall mark plainly on the outside of the cover of every package containing arduous spirits containing arduous spirits so that it may be easily seen and read, the kind and quality of arduous spirits containing ardu
